GENERAL CRONJE WITH THREE THOUSAND MEN UNCONDITIONALLY SURRENDERS TO LORD ROBERTS

LORD ROBERTS.

Boer General Is Now a Prisoner in the British Camp--News of Relief of Ladysmith Expected at Any Moment--Cronje Sent to Cape Town.

ROBERTS SENDS NEWS TO ENGLAND

LONDON, February 27.—The War Office has received the following dispatch from Lord Roberts:

"PAARDEBERG, Feb. 27, 7:45 a. m.—General Cronje and all of his force capitulated unconditionally at daylight, and he is now a prisoner in my camp.

The strength of his force will be communicated later. I hope that her majesty's government will consider this event satisfactory, occurring as it does on the anniversary of Majuba."

THREE THOUSAND BOER PRISONERS

LONDON, Feb. 27, 4:38 p. m.—The Secretary of the State of War, The Marquis of Lansdowne, announced in House of Lords this afternoon that the prisoners captured with General Cronje numbered about 3,000 men.

General Cronje will be sent to Cape Town.

GENERAL CRONJE

CRONJE HELPLESS IN ROBERTS' GRIP

The Boer Chief's Choice Was Annihilation or Surrender.

LONDON, Feb. 27, 5:02 P. M.—The War Office has received the following dispatch from Lord Roberts:

"PAARDEBERG, Feb. 27, 11 o'clock Tuesday morning.—From information furnished daily to me by the intelligence department it became apparent that General Cronje's force was becoming more depressed and that the discontent of the troops and the discord among the leaders were rapidly increasing.

"This feeling was doubtless accentuated by the disappointment caused when the Boer reinforcements which tried to relieve General Cronje were defeated by our troops on February 23d.

"I resolved, therefore, to bring pressure to bear upon the enemy. Each night the trenches were pushed forward toward the enemy's laager so as to gradually contract his position, and at the same time I bombarded it heavily with artillery, which was yesterday materially aided by the arrival of four 6-inch howitzers which I had ordered up from De Aar.

"In carrying out these measures, a captive balloon gave great assistance by keeping us informed of the dispositions and movements of the enemy.

THE BRAVE CANADIANS.

"At 3 A. M. today a most determined advance was made by the Canadian regiment and some engineers, supported by the Gordon Highlanders and Second Shropshires, resulting in our gaining a point some 600 yards nearer the enemy and within about eighty yards of his trenches, where our men intrenched themselves and maintained their positions until morning, a gallant deed worthy of our Colonial comrades, and which, I am glad to say, was attended by comparatively slight loss.

"This apparently clinched matters, for at daylight a letter signed by Cronje, in which he stated that he surrendered unconditionally, was brought to our outposts under a flag of truce.

CRONJE COMES INTO CAMP.

"In my reply I told General Cronje he must present himself at my camp and that his forces must come out of their laager after laying down their arms.

"By 7 A. M. I received General Cronje and dispatched a telegram to you announcing the fact. In the course of conversation he asked for kind treatment at our hands, and also that his wife, grandson, private secretary, ten adjutants and servants might accompany him wherever he might be sent.

"I re-assured him and told him his request would be complied with. I informed him that a general officer would be sent with him to Cape Town to insure his being treated with proper respect en route. He will start this afternoon under charge of Major-General Prettyman, who will hand him over to the General commanding at Cape Town.

WILL BE SENT TO CAPE TOWN.

"The prisoners, who number about 3,000, will be formed into commandos under their own officers. They will also leave here today, reaching the Modder river tomorrow, when they will be railed to Cape Town in detachments."

The above dispatch was read in both the House of Lords and the House of Commons today. The reference to the Canadians evoked immense and prolonged cheering.

A. J. Balfour, the government leader in the House of Commons, said he had no information relative to the Boer guns.

OFFICERS AND GUNS CAPTURED BY THE BRITISH.

LONDON, Feb. 27, 6:25 p. m.—Twenty-nine Transvaal officers were captured and eighteen Free State officers were made prisoners.

The guns captured from the Transvaal forces were seven five-centimetre Krupp, one pounder and one Maxim gun.

From the Free State, the British captured seven five-centimetre Krupp and one Maxim gun.

ROBERTS ESTIMATES THAT HE HAS 4,000 BOERS.

LONDON, Feb. 27, 6:25 p. m.—It is now announced that Lord Roberts has notified the War Office that the number of Boer prisoners approximates 4,000, of which about 1,100 are citizens of the Orange Free State. The remainder are citizens of the Transvaal.

NOTED OFFICERS ARE CAPTURED BY ROBERTS.

LONDON, Feb. 27, 1:07 p. m.—The officers captured by General Roberts, besides General Piet Cronje, include the following well-known commanders: Chief Commandant M. J. Wolverez, a member of the Volksraad; Field Cornet Prus, a Scandinavian; Major Albrecht, the famous German artilleryman; Major Von Döwitz, the distinguished German officer, responsible for most of the splendid engineering works of the Boers since the commencement of the war.

SPLENDID ATTACK RESULTS IN SMALL LOSS.

LONDON, Feb. 27, 7:51 p. m.—The War Office has received the following dispatch from Lord Roberts: "Paardeberg, Feb. 27.—In a very successful attack made by the Royal Canadian contingent on one of the enemy's trenches this morning Major Bellenger was wounded, eight men were killed and twenty-nine wounded.

"General MacDonald is expected to return to duty in a few days."

BRITISH LIST OF WOUNDED IS VERY LARGE.

LONDON, Feb. 27, 6:55 p. m.—The War Office has issued a list of 721 non-commissioned officers and men wounded in the fighting at Paardeberg Sunday, February 19th, including sixty-three Canadian and 275 Highlanders.

REJOICING IN THE COLONIES.

British Empire Thrilled By the News of Cronje's Surrender.

Associated Press Dispatches by The Tribune's Special Licensed Wire.

LONDON, Feb. 27.—Enthusiasm exhibited in Parliament over Lord Roberts' graphic details of the surrender of General Cronje spread quickly in the streets. Crowds again gathered about the War Office and the other public places in spite of the rain that had been falling since morning. Cheers were given for "Bohs," who is the hero of the hour, and one old soldier became so excited in recounting the details of the victory that he fell dead.

In the more frequented parts of the metropolis flags were set and fur between, and in Pall Mall, where the War Office is situated, there was not a single bit of hunting flying, while only one flag flew over the Strand. In the East end of London there were many small flags waving from the windows of small dwellings, and as the evening fell Londoners gave themselves up to unrestrained rejoicing.

On all sides the gallantry of the Canadians was much commented upon. Cable dispatches poured in from the colonies and the settlements, announcing that the rejoicing in those parts of the world was no less enthusiastic than in Great Britain itself. Bombay and Gibraltar, for instance, reported that their cities became a mass of bunting and that cheering crowds filled their streets.

It is reported that Lady Roberts, the wife of the Field Marshal Lord Roberts, will shortly start to join her husband.

PARIS PRESS ON ROBERTS' VICTORY

Declare the Boers Will Fight More Desperately Than Ever.

Associated Press Dispatches by The Tribune's Special Licensed Wire. PARIS, Feb. 27.—The news of the surrender of General Cronje made a considerable impression in Paris, especially as, although the press dispatches represented the Boer commander's position as hopeless, Lord Roberts himself had been so unexpectedly reticent during the last few days that he misled people here into the belief that Cronje's situation was less critical than it really was. The newspapers of this city pay the

BRITISH HEARTS SWELL WITH JOY

The Shame of Majuba Wiped Out by the Surrender of Cronje.

LONDON, Feb. 27.—"Majuba avenged!" "Cronje surrenders!" "Great British victory!" These are the expressions being shouted all over London today, yet there are few outward signs of the natural joy that Lord Roberts' dispatch has really caused. The capitulation of General Cronje had been looked upon as almost a certainty for a week past, and now that it has come enthusiasm finds itself discounted by the anticipation.

The magnitude of the success of "Little Bobs" is almost overlooked in the fact that it synchronized with the anniversary of Majuba Hill and wiped out a dishonor of nineteen years' standing. While the afternoon papers all comment upon this happy coincidence, they do not forget the splendid bravery of the enemy.

The St. James Gazette says: "The splendid courage of the Boers has not been able to withstand any longer the bombardment which few modern soldiers have supported for so many hours as they have days. The influence of the surrender not only upon the situation at Ladysmith but on the whole conduct of the war will be immense.

"If the news of the relief of Ladysmith only reaches England, and it is quite possible this may be the case, the cup of national happiness would be full."

END OF THE WAR IN SIGHT.

The Globe, under the heading of "Majuba Avenged," says:

"We shall not jump at the conclusion that the war is over, but that a victory has been gained which brings the end well in sight. General Cronje no doubt succeeded in delaying Lord Roberts' entrance into Bloemfontein, but the delay is all he has been able to accomplish."

The Westminster Gazette, which is inclined to be pro-Boer, says:

"Admiration for the desperate valor of General Cronje is mingled with anger at the necessity imposed upon us of purchasing victory at this cost. Let us remember Paardeberg, if we like, but forget Majuba and have done with the whole train of misleading assertions and mischievous ideas which gathered around that unhappy memory."

Further details of the dramatic surrender of General Cronje at Paardeberg are eagerly awaited. Speculation is rife as to how soon Lord Roberts will be able to press on to Bloemfontein, but before he enters the capital of the Free State he will undoubtedly have to overcome a powerful force and take strong intrenchments.

QUEEN'S CONGRATULATIONS.

The news of General Cronje's surrender was received with unbounded satisfaction at Windsor. The Queen immediately telegraphed her congratulations to Lord Roberts and troops. There was a much more outward display of rejoicing in the provinces than in London. The Glasgow and Liverpool stock exchanges were greatly excited. The members sang "God Save the Queen" repeatedly, and cheered for "Little Bobs." Flags were liberally displayed on the municipal and house buildings in all the large towns.

Windsor was very jubilant at the news, which the Queen disseminated immediately after it reached her, and the inhabitants seized the occasion of her majesty driving through the town on her way to take a train for a visit to the wounded South African soldiers at the Netley Hospital, to give vent to their delight.

The Queen, who was looking remarkably well, showed evident signs of deep satisfaction, smiling continually and bowing in response to the congratulatory cheers greeting her on all sides. Her majesty took quantities of flowers to distribute to the wounded.

All the garrison towns and naval ports received the news with the liveliest satisfaction, soldiers, and sailors vying with each other in displays of delight.

SUPPLIES REACH LADYSMITH.

A letter has been received from a man in the First Dragoons, now in South Africa, confirming the report that a supply transport reached Ladysmith during the engagement at Spion Kop. He says the Dragoons were the escort of the transport, which was seven miles long, and adds: "That is why Butler engaged the enemy at Spion Kop. Old Butler knows what he is doing, and all are willing to follow him in spite of his reverses."

is far from ending the war. They feel that it will only make the resistance of the Boers the more desperate.

Several newspapers urge that Great Britain accept mediation, now that she has secured an important victory, to avoid further bloodshed.

The Temps, in an article headed "Honor to Both Combatants," appeals to Great Britain to end the war, saying: "If England, once unfortunately endangered in this struggle, could not emerge by accepting the humiliation of defeat, it appears to us that she will do well and re-conquer the sympathies of all nations if, having given proof of her superior strength, she now shows her willingness to stop the scenes of destruction and carnage now unfolding themselves in the Orange Free State."

The Tribune's Special Leased Wire, NEW YORK, Feb. 27.—A dispatch to the World from Mafeking, Bechuanaland, February 15th, by native runner to Gaborone, says:

All are well here.

A dance was interrupted on Sunday, February 11th, by an alarm sounded announcing that the Boers intended to attack the town. There was some heavy firing by the Boers, but it was not pursued.

The next day, Monday, February 12th, Captain A. S. Kitchener lately of the Third Royal Irish Rifles, was mortally wounded. He was universally held in high regard.

There was heavy night firing on Tuesday, the 13th, and Wednesday, the 14th. "Creedy," apparently the nickname of a Boer, was shot and killed on the night of the 13th, and disappeared. On the morning of the 15th, Thursday, but during the day turned up five miles west of Mafeking and began shelling the town at noon, the range at that distance being as favorable for her as that from her previous position, while she is inaccessible at present to the gradual advance of the British guns. (By running trenches.)

The last advance made the Boers uneasy.

There was firing all Thursday night. It was a pretty sight, but too much of that sort of thing pulls upon one.

Today, the 16th, bullets have been falling everywhere and very viciously. The Boer guns occasionally stir up such a response.

CROWDS CHEER QUEEN VICTORIA

Associated Press Dispatches by The Tribune's Special Leased Wire.

LONDON, Feb. 27.—Immense crowds awaited the Queen at Netley and cheered themselves hoarse. The village was gaily decorated with flags and her majesty's reception on the hospital grounds presented a scene of enthusiasm, the brilliant and bright uniforms adding color to the surroundings.

The sovereign was visibly affected as she made a tour of the wards and spoke in the most kindly terms to a number of the wounded.

Associated Press Dispatches by The Tribune's Special Leased Wire.

PLATTSBURGH, N. Y., Feb. 27.—Last night was probably the coldest of the winter in the Adirondack region. It was below zero at daylight this morning, 14 below zero at Malone, and 22 below at Saranac Lake.

Cold Weather in Adirondacks.

Associated Press Dispatches by The Tribune's Special Leased Wire.

PLATTSBURGH, N. Y., Feb. 27.—Last night was probably the coldest of the winter in the Adirondack region. It was below zero at daylight this morning, 14 below zero at Malone, and 22 below at Saranac Lake.

The next day, Monday, February 12th, Captain A. S. Kitchener lately of the Third Royal Irish Rifles, was mortally wounded. He was universally held in high regard.

There was heavy night firing on Tuesday, the 13th, and Wednesday, the 14th. "Creedy," apparently the nickname of a Boer, was shot and killed on the night of the 13th, and disappeared. On the morning of the 15th, Thursday, but during the day turned up five miles west of Mafeking and began shelling the town at noon, the range at that distance being as favorable for her as that from her previous position, while she is inaccessible at present to the gradual advance of the British guns. (By running trenches.)

The last advance made the Boers uneasy.

There was firing all Thursday night. It was a pretty sight, but too much of that sort of thing pulls upon one.

Today, the 16th, bullets have been falling everywhere and very viciously. The Boer guns occasionally stir up such a response.

CROWDS CHEER QUEEN VICTORIA

Associated Press Dispatches by The Tribune's Special Leased Wire.

LONDON, Feb. 27.—Immense crowds awaited the Queen at Netley and cheered themselves hoarse. The village was gaily decorated with flags and her majesty's reception on the hospital grounds presented a scene of enthusiasm, the brilliant and bright uniforms adding color to the surroundings.

The sovereign was visibly affected as she made a tour of the wards and spoke in the most kindly terms to a number of the wounded.
